Subject: chemical increase due to Garlon prohibition / Shallow Marsh & Egret Marsh

CAUTION: This message is from an external source. Please use caution when opening attachments or clicking links.

Keith, Per our discussion, due to the county requirement to stop use of Garlon in 2018, we have changed chemicals as requested, which have increased the cost $100 per event. The new chemical is significantly more expensive. This was not contemplated in the original contracts with Shallow Marsh, which were completed in 2018. I will check the Egret Marsh file to see if that revised proposal included the price increase.

Thanks,
George
